Scalp

LYOPHILIZED EXOSOMES

Skin aging begins at the scalp!

Skin aging doesn't start on the face—it starts at the scalp.

Gravity causes the top of the head to age first, leading to wrinkles on the forehead, neck, and face.

The scalp is skin too, with different types: dry, oily, sensitive, and acne-prone.

Yet, it's often overlooked—leaving root problems unsolved.

We discovered exosomes from probiotics found in youthful scalps, carrying powerful genetic signals for skin regeneration.

Space for Collagen Production

Help rough texture also creates more space between particles, allowing for substantial collagen production in these areas.

Principle of Volume Restoration

As the particles are absorbed, collagen fills the space left behind, restoring skin volume.
